Lloyd-George Created Supplies for Attack

David Lloyd-George has become secretary of war in succession of late Lord Kitchener. It was announced in London. To Lloyd-George's work as minister of munitions the British and their allies attribute the keeping of the British army supplied with the enormous stores of ammunition of all kinds which made the recent advances against the Germans possible.

State Losing Money On Account of Strike

San Francisco, July 12.—Having lost $15,000 in wharf tolls since the longshoremen's strike began, the state of California today tried its hand at settling the trouble. Joan P. McLaughlin, state labor commissioner, is arranging a conference between the strikers and employers, at which he intends to submit an arbitration agreement. McLaughlin expected that this session would be held today.

"I believe the strike will be settled before the end of the week," said McLaughlin, in discussing his latest moves.

Federal Mediator White has not abandoned his campaign to bring about peace, in spite of repeated setbacks. As the latest development in the offensive launched by the employers through the chamber of commerce, the Bay and River Steamboat Owners association placed its affairs in control of Frederick J. Koster, president of the chamber. Koster immediately announced rejection of the strikers' overtures and declared there was nothing to arbitrate.

The chamber of commerce sub-committee in charge of the strike situation now has a fund of $340,000 with which to conduct its campaign.

ENGLAND, AS USUAL

war broke out, following this act by waging a land and sea warfare with methods both contrary to international law and repugnant to the ideas of civilization and humanity. I need not remind you of the amount of neutral shipping and the number of neutral lives destroyed by German submarines.

"The chancellor maintains that Great Britain denies the rights of neutrals and enforces municipal statutes as though they were international law. Great Britain from the first has done the utmost to distinguish between genuine neutral commerce and that carried on in the interests of the enemy and to place as little impediment as possible in the way of the former.

"Some delays and inconvenience undoubtedly have been caused neutral traders, but that is the inevitable accompaniment of a state of war and every country possible and will be done to reduce them to a minimum. Surely the record of Great Britain will compare favorably with that of Germany who has not scrupled to sink neutral vessels at night and to destroy neutral innocent lives on only too many occasions.

"So far from Great Britain imposing the municipal statutes in place of international law, the supreme court of this country in the case of the Zamora, decided that the British courts could enforce only international law and were bound by no executive act unless acting in conformity with the law of nations. It would seem, in truth, that the chancellor isn't so anxious to obtain freedom for neutral commerce as to obtain that freedom for German commerce, which the efforts of the German navy so far have been unable to procure."

Bremen Will Bring Badly Needed Drugs

Baltimore, Md., July 13.—There will be no international complications by reason of the presence of Americans aboard the German undersea freighter Deutschland, it was learned officially today.

Manager Hilken stated positively, under orders from the owners, that she will carry no American citizens. A new mystery projected itself in the plans for the Deutschland's get away when it leaked out today that a hydro-aeroplane is stored in the Deutschland's guarded wharf. It was assumed that this was for reconnoitering purposes when she makes her dash through the allied war vessels lined up off the Virginia capes.

Salvagers will be brought here in limited quantities by the Bremen, it was officially learned today. The cargo will also contain other badly needed German drugs.

THE MARKETS

The following prices for fruits and vegetables are those asked by the wholesaler of the retailer, and not what is paid to the producer. All other prices are those paid the producer. Corrections are made daily.

Buyers are willing to give and were paying today 8 1/4 cents for hogs for tops an advance of a quarter of a cent over the first of the week. Steers are also slightly stronger with 6 1/2 cents for tops.

Indirectly, the effect of the strike among the longshore men at San Francisco is felt among the farmers. Eggs are five cents a dozen higher in San Francisco than Portland, but there is not the means of cheap water shipment, as many boats are tied up. The Portland market is strong, but the chance of eading by Portland commission houses prevents many local buyers from paying a candled market price.

Escaping Criminals May Have Been Here

That John E. Gillies and Henry Roberts, for whom the police of half a dozen states are searching, may have passed through Salem last Sunday is possible.

Late Sunday night an automobile containing three men came dashing in from the Portland road. At Capital and Chemeketa streets it brought up short before an approaching street car. The chauffeur hailed the conductor and asked the way to Albany. When he had secured the information the car shot off to the south without further ado.

Gillies and Roberts have penitentiary terms starting them in the face. Gillies, former industrial accident commissioner of Washington, is charged with embezzling some $15,000 from the state. Roberts was a go between, cashing the fictitious checks written by Gillies.

The two escaped from the Thurston county jail July 8 in an automobile. The car was found later and the authorities now have the chauffeur in custody.

The car seen in Salem Sunday night had a California license tag issued last year. Confederates may have been waiting to transport the fugitives from Portland or even from Chehalis, where they were seen last.
